Steven is one of the most conscientious persons I have ever worked with. A perfectionist on one hand, making sure he provides references and sources, yet he's also flexible in the classroom where it's required with students who have serious questions and struggle with the difficult subject of the Holocaust.

I have a profound amount of respect for Steven and his dedication to building bridges between Christians and Jews.

Jan,

If you could give me your appraisal of me in how I co-worked, co-led, and co-conducted these seminars with you, I would appreciate it. Whatever you could provide would be helpful me in supporting my PhD.

Thank you,

Steven
