

Steven D. Reece

From: Steven D. Reece <sdreece@matzevah.org>
Sent: Tuesday, December 15, 2015 12:46
To: Kevin Little; j.siegienski@comcast.net; 'John Mark Folker'; 'Rachel McRae'; 'Brown, Elaine'; Robin Park
Cc: Przemek Panasuik; Cynthia Jones; Jacek Jerschina; Office Staff; Bruce and Jane Mussey; Wes Plunk
Subject: "Light Reading"
Attachments: Nostra aetate.pdf; Confrontation_2.pdf; Dabru Emet - A Jewish Statement on Christians and Christianity.pdf; berger (1).pdf; National Jewish Interfaith Leadership Letter on USCCB_Note on Ambiguities_.pdf; Rabbinical Council of America (RCA).pdf; Orthodox Rabbinic Statement on Christianity _ The Center for Jewish-Christian Understanding and Cooperation.pdf; Vatican II at 50 - Tablet Magazine.pdf

Greetings,

I am forwarding to you all some very important reading regarding Jewish and Christian dialogue. The primary article – Vatican II at 50, I have posted to our FB and my personal FB pages. If you do not have time to read all that I have sent you, please read this article at the very least. All the documents that I am sending to you have been referred to and linked to in the article.

I have read many of these articles previously, but will re-read them in light of my research and our work. The most significant and recently published document is the Orthodox Rabbinic Statement on Christianity. Although we are not Roman Catholic, we need to understand the importance of Nostra Aetate and how it factors into our work with the Jewish community.

Blessings,

Steven

Steven D. Reece

President, The Matzevah Foundation, Inc.
(+1) 404.663.2383
www.matzevah.org